

The Challenge

Before working with Dumpsters.com, the purchasing agent at a national roofing company spent a significant amount of time weekly vetting haulers for their jobs nationwide. She called an average of 5-10 local haulers per project.

The agent knew allocating this amount of time or worrying about reliability wouldn't be sustainable during peak season, so she looked for a partner that could serve all their national dumpster rental needs reliably, promptly and efficiently.

The Solution

Dumpsters.com provided this roofing contractor with a centralized and efficient dumpster rental solution for any dumpsters they needed nationwide.

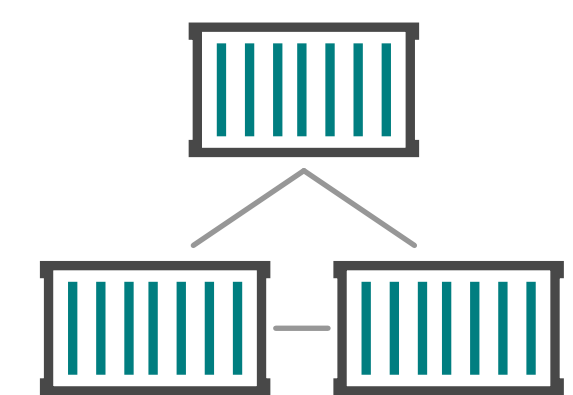

The purchasing agent and her team now have access to:

One dedicated account manager for all their dumpster needs.

Fast and flexible scheduling for dumpster rentals in 50 states.

Guaranteed service for dumpster rental requests through their large hauler network.

The Results

The purchasing agent doesn't need to find dumpster vendors for new jobs. Now, she can order dumpsters easily with an email to her account manager, Rick White, who coordinates all their dumpster deliveries, swaps and pickups. Plus, she can rest assured that the dumpsters her team needs will be delivered when and where they need them – all with upfront pricing and consolidated invoicing.

The Experience

"Rick does a great job, and I couldn't do what I do without him. I can just send Rick an email, and he responds quickly; I don't have to call him. It's just more convenient. I can just send him an address. I just ask him to set it up because I know what your rates are."
